Home, Suite Home

The best rooms at the world's top resorts are not rooms at all, but instead lavish villas, chalets, and even castles that offer everything from theaters to private beaches and spas. Here, we present 20 of our house favorites.

Villa Rockstar at Eden Rock

THE RESORT * Several of the 34 guest rooms, suites, houses, and cottages at Eden Rock on St. Barts are named and themed after past guests of the 60-year-old resort. Howard Hughes and Greta Garbo are among those celebrated by the accommodations, which are set along a sandy cove or atop a rock that protrudes from the beach into St. Jean Bay. Since being acquired by a British couple in 1995, Eden Rock has reinvented its accommodations and added several new ones. The resort also has two exceptional oceanfront restaurants, a small fitness center, and an art gallery.

THE VILLA * Villa Rockstar may not be named for a past guest, but the moniker matches this flashy beachfront retreat next door to Eden Rock. Debuted in January 2009, the two-story, 16,000-square-foot residence has four upstairs bedrooms with curved walls; a circular master bathroom with 14-karat-white-gold tiles covering the ceiling, walls, and floors; two additional bedrooms downstairs; a 12-seat dining room; a home theater; a gym; and a swimming pool and hot tub. The villa, which is attended by a dedicated butler and surrounded by 10-foot-high walls for privacy, also includes a garage with two cars for guests' use.

THE HIGHLIGHT * A basement recording studio equipped with the mixing table John Lennon used in New York to record "Imagine."

THE PRICE * From $8,900 per night for as many as 12 people. +590.590.29.79.99, www.edenrockhotel.com
